

KLAHOOSE
WILDERNESS RESORT

Welcome!

ʔi:mot tətʰ kʷənome It's good to see you!...

A few notes about our home...

Welcome to the traditional Klahoose Nation territory, which extends from Yekwamen (yɛkʷamən) or Toba Inlet to the northern islands of the Salish Sea and Desolation Sound. Our resort lies within the territory of the Klahoose Nation and in proximity to its sister Nations: the Homalco, Kwakiutl, and Tla'amin. Our Nation's permanent community resides in Squirrel Cove, on Cortes Island. Your comfort is important to us. We aim to provide a service standard that reflects our natural, authentic ways, and to offer our guests a memorable experience. We believe that we are only one aspect in the great diversity of life on the land. Since time immemorial, we have used formal protocol to acknowledge our surroundings, which was meant to honour our spiritual beliefs. This acknowledgment includes or specifies water, ancestors, animals, and plant life, all of which are considered to be alive and therefore having a "spirit." Our ancestors knew and believed that everything in nature is connected, that nothing can exist in the environment for, or by itself as everyone and everything depends on one other.

We are honoured to welcome you to our home.

Traditional Welcome

Desolation Sound - Klahoose Territory

BEFORE YOU LEAVE HOME

MANDATORY GUEST INFORMATION

Please ensure that you have provided us with the most up to date contact information including your in-travel contact information and your Arrival and Departure details.

SPECIAL DIETARY NEEDS

Your stay includes all meals starting with dinner on day of arrival to breakfast on the day of departure. Meals served are a set menu and while we can cater to most specialty diets and requirements, we must be notified at least 45 days in advance of your stay. As a remote lodge, only accessible by boat and seaplane we will have limited availability to customize your meal while you are staying with us. If you have not already done so, please advise us of any dietary requirements or allergies that we should be aware of.

While your stay is inclusive of meals and snacks and house/wine beer with dinner your room has a fridge so feel free to bring your own extra snacks for your room.

Mandatory for each booking:

Please email your arrival and departure details plus any special dietary needs to:
info@klahooseresort.com

WAIVERS

Because of the nature of the activities in which our guests commonly participate in, all guests are required to sign a Guest Participant Release which is available in your guest details link or when you arrive at the resort. Minors must have a parent or legal guardian sign the waiver on their behalf. A copy of the waiver can be available to you upon written request to Klahoose Wilderness Resort.

CHECK OUT

Check out of Klahoose Wilderness Resort is after breakfast at 10:00am. Our water taxi will return you to Lund between 11:00am-12:00pm. Important: Please plan your connecting ferries or flights matching this check out return to Lund.

LUND PARKING

Parking is available in Lund. At the Lund Marina, adjacent to the Lund Resort, parking can be paid locally for about $10 per day (subject to change) in the local parking meters.

LUGGAGE

We offer complimentary luggage service for your entire stay with us. Upon check out, please leave your luggage outside your door in the morning and we will collect and load it onto the boat for you.

WATER – Yes! You can drink it from the tap

From that same freshwater source that we get our hydro power, we also get our fresh drinking water, and it is the best! The water is collected through another intake and is filtered, treated daily, and tested regularly as required by the BC Health Authority standards and regulations.

ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES

A small selection of wine and beer are available during meals and are included in the package. Klahoose Wilderness Resort also has a selection of premium wine and beer for purchase. You are welcome to bring your own additional alcoholic beverages to be consumed in your room or cabin.

GRATUITY

If you enjoyed your stay or wish to further acknowledge the staff and guides, please ask for an envelope and you may leave a gratuity with the on-site manager. Recommend at $50 per day per guest. These gratuities are shared among the resorts staff.

SERVICE FEE

The Service Fee includes many activities and use of facilities at the resort including: WIFI, in-room tea, coffee service, snacks, wood-fire sauna, campfire area, kayaks, stand-up paddle boards, hiking trails, activities such as cedar weaving, complimentary shared airport transfers between Powell River Airport and Lund (when required).

CONSERVATION FEE

The Klahoose ancestors have managed this legacy of natural resources, honoring, and protecting the environment and its inhabitants for millennia. Their investment is committed to the preservation, conservation, and protection of our ocean, wilderness, marine, and terrestrial life as well as the local people.

A conservation fee is included in your package, at $25 to $35 per person per stay. Our partnership with the Commercial Bear Viewing Association (CBVA), and the North Island Marine Mammal Stewardship Association (NIMMSA) helps develop industry standards, guide training, and ongoing research to protect bear and wildlife habitat. Funds from this conservation license fee are distributed to the CBVA and NIMMSA.

ENVIRONMENTAL STEWARDSHIP

Environmental Stewardship means more than just conservation to the Klahoose First Nation, rather, it is integral to their way of life. The Klahoose territory is abundant in natural resources, and managing, honoring, and protecting these riches is engrained within the culture.

The Klahoose Nation supports sustainable forestry, aquaculture, and tourism. True to their ethos, all businesses are fully committed to continue protecting the environment, its wildlife, and natural resources for future generations.

The preservation of our ocean, wilderness, and local community is evident through the following endeavors:

- Our off-grid Resort produces its own power and supplies excess power across the territory. In 2022, the Resort was awarded the BC Government's new 'First Nations Clean Energy Business Fund' grant to help finance the redesign of the Resort's water intake, Pelton Wheel (hydro-wheel), and storage capacity. This brand new 'turn-key' electrical grid came with innovative equipment, allowing us to harness the water more efficiently, triple our energy generation, and most importantly, enable us to store, otherwise lost energy, which is so critical during peak consumption periods. The Micro-Hydroelectric project will eliminate diesel fuel generators, removing up to 38 tons of carbon emissions annually to create a low carbon future for the Resort. We would be happy to show the system through a back of house tour. Please ask!

- Our partnership with the Commercial Bear Viewing Association, helps to develop industry standards for sustainable bear viewing, systemize guide training, and research the protection of bear and wildlife habitats while supporting the Grizzly Bear Foundation
- We assist the North Island Marine Mammal Stewardship Association (NIMMSA) through collecting conservation fees from guests. These funds are used for conservation and education in the Northern Salish Sea region.
- We contribute to the local economy in our regional coastal communities by purchasing locally sourced goods and foods, hiring Indigenous staff, and partnering with local artists.
- We avoid single-use plastics through our Recycling program which provides each guest with a reusable water bottle.

Reconciliation Through Travel: q^waga k^wanačum - Come sit down...

Guests who visit the Klahoose Wilderness Resort support these great initiatives while etching memories through their personal adventures.

We invite you to see the beauty of our lands through our eyes, experience the best of our renowned hospitality, and feel deep connection through our shared traditions and storied history. Our collective commitment to sustainability will continue to ensure our territory remains pristine for our people, visitors, and future generations.

ORAL HISTORY

You are welcome to take photos, however we ask that you please ask your Cultural Interpreter's permission if you wish to post their image or their oral history presentation including songs and stories on social media. Should you have questions or comments in terms of sensitive historic matters, please feel free to talk with our manager who is more than willing to help support this dialogue.

SHARE THE LOVE!

OPPORTUNITY TO UNPLUG

There is no cell phone coverage at Klahoose Wilderness Resort. We do have a satellite Wi-Fi phone in the main lodge. This phone is used primarily for emergency service and contacting our head office. However, you are welcome to use it if you feel the need to make a call, just let us know!

Our satellite Wi-Fi router is in the main lodge and the connection is usually best in that area as the further you get away from it the spottier the connection.

We kindly request that you refrain from downloading, or backing up images or large files, or streaming video or posting videos to your social media. This slows down the connection as our limited bandwidth becomes overloaded. Please do post images during your stay and save the videos for later!

GIFT SHOP

There are several souvenir and artisan items available for purchase with credit card. Note we do not have a store at the resort.

SMOKING

There is no smoking permitted onboard the vessels or in any of the rooms, balconies, or common areas. Smoking is only permitted in designated outdoor areas on land.

HOUSEKEEPING

Housekeeping is on request during your stay. Should you require fresh or extra towels or blankets, just let us know. If you require a hair dryer during your stay, just ask one of our staff.

BATH & COMFORT

Our guest soap bars are hand made locally and contain nothing but pure, organic products. These and other locally made soaps are available in our Gift Shop in the Main Lodge. Our environmentally mindful dispensers for liquid shampoo, conditioner, and body wash. Black face cloths are for your make up removal to avoid staining of our white towels. Our signature bath robes are available for purchase. Outdoor dock and swim towels as well as evening blankets are available in the Main Lodge. Kindly do not take any linens or room towels for outside use.

ACTIVITIES

Desolation Sound and Klahoose Wilderness Resort is a place to sit back and relax, but also explore. We have water sports from our dock including ocean kayaks, sit-on-top kayaks, and stand-up paddle boards. The ocean is warm enough for swimming and our wood fire sauna is available on the dock. Explore the rain forest, on a nature trail including Foster Point (35 minutes round-trip or a more strenuous hike up the mountain to a small grove of old growth forest (1.5-2 hours round-trip). Enjoy an evening outdoor campfire.

At Klahoose Wilderness Resort, we take care of every detail allowing you to slow down, smell the cedar, taste the ocean and be inspired by the natural beauty of our land and Indigenous culture. It is a place to sit back and relax, but also explore. Here are a few of the adventures included in packages and more ways to explore.

ECO-ADVENTURE TOUR (Included from May to late August)

The Toba Inlet boat tours are included for everyone from opening in May to late August. View the natural beauty of Toba Inlet with high mountain peaks, glacier blue water and massive thundering waterfalls. Watching for marine life such as humpback whales, Orca, dolphins, seals, and eagles. This tour is led by our Klahoose guides. This tour is scheduled for day 2 of your stay and is 4-5 hours.
