

KLAHOOSE
WILDERNESS RESORT

Answer the Call...

Why travel to Klahoose?

REMOTE BUT ACCESSIBLE

Located north of British Columbia's Sunshine Coast in Desolation Sound. To get here take a scheduled or charter plane from Vancouver to Powell River (35 minutes) or direct to our dock or drive to Lund and meet the resort's boat transfer.

ALL-INCLUSIVE ROOMS WITH VIEW

Enjoy a 3- and 4-night, all-inclusive stay in one of seven lodge rooms or private cabins overlooking the ocean. Included in the stay are wildlife and cultural tours, Indigenous activities, kayaking, hiking trails, a sauna, and all meals prepared by the chef.

INDIGENOUS OWNED & OPERATED

The resort is located in the traditional toq qaymix^w (Klahoose Nation) territory. Guests take part in authentic experiences led by Indigenous guides and cultural interpreters.

Why travel to Klahoose?

WILDLIFE

Rich in diverse wildlife guests can view the stunning wilderness and view Humpback Whales, Orca, Dolphins, and Eagles in this ocean and rain forest paradise.

COMMITMENT TO SUSTAINABILITY

The resort was granted the prestigious Silver Certification from GreenStep Sustainable Tourism, a company that assesses tourism businesses for their environmental impact. The entire resort operates off-grid with its own micro power system.

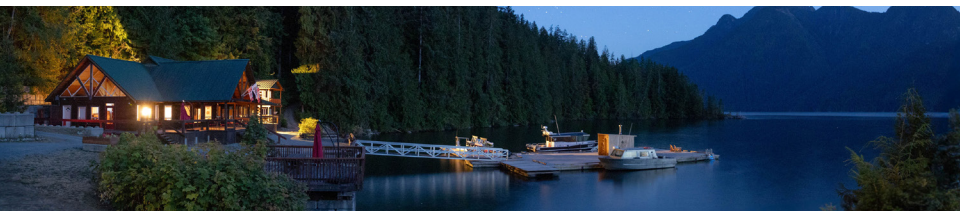

SPRING AND FALL BEAR VIEWING

Due to its spectacular location, the Klahoose Wilderness Resort is a prime spot to see Grizzly Bears and Black Bears. In the spring, guests can see both types from boats as the bears feed near estuaries and along beaches. In the fall, grizzlies can be seen from viewing platforms overlooking rivers filled with spawning salmon.
